Please indicate whether the database is open to the public in the protocol and lay summary.

- If it is publicly available, please provide the website in which the PI will access the data.
- If it is not publicly available, please provide official permission to access the database for the IRB review.
  - The official permission needs LETTERHEAD of the host organization, ADMINISTRATION SIGNATURE, and clearly INDICATING that data is given to the PI for this particular research during specific time period with identifiers (or without identifiers) .

The letter of cultural context

Cultural context letter can be written by the host/local agency or by an Emory investigator who has research experience in the study site. Organization letterhead and proper signature are required.

Cultural context letter should confirm that the research design, study procedures and the informed consent process are culturally appropriate for the study population.

To prevent the conflict of interest, this letter should come from the third party who is not one of the study members or faculty advisor.
